

Thomas Bourgeois has been appointed CEO of DimoMaint.

Limonest, France October 14, 2025 DimoMaint announces the appointment of Thomas Bourgeois as its new Chief Executive Officer (CEO). This appointment marks the beginning of an ambitious new chapter for the company, driven by strengthened governance and a forward-looking vision.

Strengthened Governance and a Clear Strategic Vision

DimoMaint is entering a new phase of its development, supported by robust governance and an ambitious roadmap. The company's strategic priorities are structured around four key pillars:

International expansion:

- Technological innovation, with a strong focus on artificial intelligence
- Operational and product excellence
- Continuous enhancement of customer experience

Jean-Paul Genoux, CEO of Dimo Software and former CEO of DimoMaint, stated: "Thomas Bourgeois's recognized expertise, his ability to unite teams, and his strong background in innovation make him a major asset to drive the Group's ambitions. With his leadership, we are confident that DimoMaint will accelerate its international growth, strengthen its position as a European leader in SaaS-based CMMS, and continue to deliver innovative, business-driven solutions tailored to our clients' needs."

A Leader with a Proven and Inspiring Track Record

A SUPELEC graduate, Thomas Bourgeois began his career in 1998 at Alcatel, where he gained solid industrial experience across network, software, and mobile divisions. He held leadership roles in operations, R&D, sales, and business unit management—giving him a comprehensive understanding of the entire technology value chain. In 2008, he became a serial entrepreneur, founding and growing several companies in the software and services sectors. This entrepreneurial journey, combined with his experience in international groups, gives him both a strategic and pragmatic vision, focused on innovation and customer value creation.

This dual experience spanning large organizations and entrepreneurship—has shaped his ability to rally teams around ambitious goals and translate strategy into measurable outcomes.

Thomas Bourgeois commented:

"I am delighted and honored to join DimoMaint , working alongside a talented team within a structured, well-equipped, and mature organization. Together, we will accelerate our growth momentum, innovate through artificial intelligence, and strengthen our international footprint. Our ambition is clear: to continuously enhance the value we deliver to our clients and to reaffirm DimoMaint long-term leadership in the European SaaS CMMS market."
